

Seven Thirty

Ryan Taylor Bliss

You've been working hard to build a wall;
Constructing borders to stop us all.
And if they keep me out, I'll say goodbye;
It would kill me, but for you I'd try.

No matter how I try to, I found I can't forget you. It's seven thirty I don't wanna go home;
Cause I'll just end up staying up by the phone. And every time I turn around, I still see you dear I see you here.

And all my friends are saying Ryan what's wrong;
It's seven thirty guys I wanna go home.

Cause everytime I turn around I still see your face;
And I don't want it to go away. I go all the way to the coast;

If I knew you'd be there, I'd just go.
And every word we'd say, would fight the tide;
Damn the water for trying to rise (push us aside)
On the beach holding your hand;

I'd write our names in the sand. It's seven thirty I don't wanna go home;
Cause I'll just end up staying up by the phone. And every time I turn around, I still see you dear I see you here.

And all my friends are saying Ryan what's wrong;
It's seven thirty guys I wanna go home.

Cause everytime I turn around I still see your face;
And I don't want it to go away.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>