Maybe Memories

The Used

And we trudged along through the mud We tried to call it home We weren't alright, not at all Not for one, for one secondNever have Been one to write it down Now I think I can I know I'm stronger nowWho's looking south? Not me, I'm not looking back I'm done denying the truth to anyone 'Cause I'm aliveAnd we trudged along through the mud We tried to call it home But we weren't alright, not at all Not for one, for one secondShowed me how You seemed to find a hole But I just laughed and smiled Begged and rolled my eyesEven cried Denied the truth to you Just like the truth to me Mostly liedI'm not going to look back I'm not going to look back I'm not going to look back I'm not going to look backWhite it out Glittering Wax butterflies (Butterflies, butterflies) Never have Been one to write it down Now I think I can I know I'm stronger nowWho's looking south? Not me, I'm not looking back I'm done denying the truth to anyone 'Cause I'm aliveI'm not going to look back

I'm not going to look backI'm not going to look back
I'm not going to look back
I'm not going to look back
I'm not going to look back

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/

I'm not going to look back