Yellow Butterfly

Tahiti 80

Will you ever see me
Like a possible lover again?
I am fed up to be your twin brother
You're not my sisterAnd every time
I think of that, I want to
I wanna say to you
I wanna talk to youWhen I look into your eyes
I see a yellow butterfly
When I look into your eyes
I see a yellow butterfly
Flying high in a beautiful
Summer skyEvery time I look into your eyes
I see a reflection of me
A distorted vision
Of realityDon't waste your time
Trying to find a meaning
To everything
You might get disappointedI'd really like to experience
Something personal
Something I would never hear or feel
In someone else's songI often get the feeling
That there's something missing
I wish I were that yellow butterfly
Sparkling in your eyesDon't waste your time
Trying to find a meaning
To everything
You might get disappointedI think you should know better by now
I think you should know betterIn the back of my mind
There are so many things I don't want you to know
I don't want you to know
In the back of my mindThere are so many things I don't want you to know
In the back of my mind
There are so many things I don't want you to know
I don't want you to knowI think you should know better by now
I think you should know betterI should know better
(Yellow butterfly)
You should know better
(Yellow butterfly)When I look into your eyes
When I look into your eyes

When I look into your eyes, eyes
Yellow butterfly

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/