Yellow Butterfly

Tahiti 80

Will you ever see me
Like a possible lover again?
I am fed up to be your twin brother
You're not my sisterAnd every time
I think of that, I want to
I wanna say to you
I wanna talk to youWhen I look into your eyes
I see a yellow butterfly
When I look into your eyes

I see a yellow butterfly
Flying high in a beautiful skyEvery time I look into your eye.

Summer skyEvery time I look into your eyes

I see a reflection of me

A distorted vision

Of realityDon't waste your time

Trying to find a meaning

To everything

You might get disappointedI'd really like to experience

Something personal

Something I would never hear or feel In someone else's songI often get the feeling

That there's something missing

I wish I were that yellow butterfly

Sparkling in your eyesDon't waste your time

Trying to find a meaning

To everything

You might get disappointedI think you should know better by now I think you should know betterIn the back of my mind

There are so many things I don't want you to know

I don't want you to know

In the back of my mindThere are so many things I don't want you to know

In the back of my mind

There are so many things I don't want you to know
I don't want you to knowI think you should know better by now
I think you should know betterI should know better

(Yellow butterfly)

You should know better (Yellow butterfly)When I look into your eyes When I look into your eyes

When I look into your eyes, eyes Yellow butterfly

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/