Heading South

Adam Sweeney

I want to talk to folks back home again, to walk along a lonely country lane
To spend some time with that woman of mine, heading south, heading southThings look bright and I feel alright yeah I'm heading southHeading south to see the sun go down on camp fire light,to join the singing at night Heading south to cotton rows and honeysuckle bloom under the cumberland moon heading south, heading southGive me room to travel on my way to a place where dreams all fade away where the river flows and tobacco grows heading south heading south Cause the sun is hot and people love a lot yeah I'm heading southHeading south to see the sun go down on camp fire light, to join the singing at night
Heading south to cotton rows and honeysuckle bloom under the cumberland moon Heading south, heading south
