Whenever

Sita

(Tom Nichols/Alex von Soos)You don't look happy much at all these days
I count the tears of a clown rolling down your face
I'm sad to say
Don't you know that I could put that sweet smile back on your face
If you, if you'd let me try toTime will show
I am the one who will stand by you in this life
I'll be the only rock that you will needAnd whenever your heart feels it needs a little love
Just pack it up and come over
and leave those clouds behind you now
And whenever you heart is sad don't feel so bad
I'll make you smile
Won't you let me dry those tears
Babe won't you stay a whileI don't understand why you're where you are You're so beautiful but you're still so far away from me
I don't know why you can't break free of each and every chain that keeps
You sad and lonelyBridgeAnd whenever your heart feels it needs a little love
Just pack it up and come over
and leave those clouds behind you now
And whenever you heart is sad don't feel so bad
I'll make you smile
Won't you let me dry those tears
Babe won't you stay a while
