

Love Is Innocent

Colin Hay

I've been standing here
Staring at the mirror
The voices in my ear
Is not my friend
I know you're sad and blue
I know, and I am too And now I'm on the train
I see your writing on the wall
Says:

Love is innocent
Love is innocent You're always on my mind
And time is standing still now
The words that were unkind
Are here again
You're faded from my view
I know that I am too
And now I'm on the train
I see your writing on the wall
Says:

Love is innocent
Love is innocent Now the whistle is blowing
It's time to get on board
There's no way now of knowing
Where it will, where it will stop I know it's up to me
I'm gonna try and pick up the pieces
I have to find a scene
With a better view
I know you're sad and blue
I know, and I am too
And now I'm on the train
I see your writing on the wall
Says:

Love is innocent
Love is innocent
