Take My Chances

BarlowGirl

Ive bowed out from this, can I say Im sick
And now its time for me to stand up and make you hear me
This world you rob innocence, you never gave us a chance
We were born believing you had all the answers for meLook out, you will find out
That here I am so far from them soI take my chances

Cause I dont live for you And Ill say what I have to

So, who cares, who cares of what I doIf we dont speak, who will?

If we dont fight, were still

Stuck without a voice

And we are tired of being silencedLook out, you will find out

That here I am so far from them soI take my chances

Cause I dont live for you

And Ill say what I have to

So, who cares, who cares of what I doWe are set apart

Weve been chosen now

We are children of the God

So what holds us back?

Whats holding us back? YeahSo, I take my chances

Cause I dont live for you

And Ill say what I have to

So, who cares, who cares of what I do

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/