

Evolution

Unwritten Law

So you're looking for another band
Already planned and you're lookin' for another ace
For me to rock him in the face
'Cause the full moon's risin' over a black horizon
This time baptizin' Nothing changes if nothing changes
They're just label whores and I can take no more Grass is always greener on the other side
Go run and hide, boy, leave you feelin' for another taste
So we can rock this fuckin' place
'Cause the sky is fallin' and I'm far from stallin' out
Evolution calling Nothing changes if nothing changes
Yeah, they're just label whores and silence rages more He's gone, so you're looking for another plan now
He's down, so you're looking for another man now
One more zero Nothing changes if nothing changes
Nothing changes if nothing changes
They're just label whores and I can take no more
So what fuck
