I Should Know

The Mavericks

Every night alone
And every night I spent without you
Every little thing about you
Runs right through my mindI wonder where you are
And do you ever think about me
And if you get the feeling that
There's something missing tooBut I should know
You'll never come back to me
Even though I will always love you
I should knowI'm the one to blame
Something I did fine without you
I just fooled myself
And tell me every thing's alrightAnd every night alone
And every night I spent without you
Every little thing about you
Runs right through my mindBut I should know
You'll never come back to me
Even though I will always love you
I should knowI should know
You'll never come back to me
Even though I will always love you
I shouldI should know
You'll never come back to me
Even though I will always love you
I should know

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/