The Henney Buggy Band

Sufjan Stevens

Oh life, with your shoulders in the mirror
From the park when Dakota ran and brought you there
In the car when your mother lost her temper
The catalog and the catastrophic smileLet the bugles play the sermon on the raid
I kissed you on the face

I kissed you on the playgroundOh Father John, you cannot tell me Whats right and wrong you cannot tell me

I jump before I get around you

Oh Father JohnPick it up with the band on the Ronald Reagan tollway

Dont give up, let's go forget about yourself

Illinois in it ran from the Ronald Reagan tollway

Forget about yourself and all your plansOh life, with your colorful surprises

Eleanor, how you put one on disguises

Oh Father John, you cannot tell me

Whats right and wrong you cannot tell meIn the mortal life far in the morning light

Were back from Bloomington we let the runners win

Far in the morning light we let the movies play

A weekend from the holidayPick it up with the band on the Ronald Reagan toll way

Dont break down, lets go forget about yourself

Illinois in it ran from the Ronald Reagan toll way

If Im wrong makes nothing right about yourselfSnowmobile on the field where the gunners throw their weight around

Forget about yourself and all your plans
