Falling At Your Feet

Darren Hayes

And when you walk into the room
I feel the world dissolve
I fall at your feet
And when you look at me
I swear the beating of my heart is
About to cease
Oooh, you make me wanna
Deny the world
Deny the man I wanna be
Deny the oxygen that moves inside of me
Deny my friends
Deny the sensibility
I have surrendered now
I only wonder how
Sparks fly when our worlds collide
And I am falling at your feet
Stars shine so much brighter
You make me wanna sit right by
And watch the world falling at your feet
And when you speak to me
I can't wait for the next word
To fall out of your mouth
And when you close your eyes
I wonder what the thoughts look like
You never let out
Ooooh, you make me wanna
Deny the world
Deny the man I wanna be
Deny the food that brings the energy I need
Deny myself
My individuality

I have surrendered now
I only wonder how
Sparks fly when our worlds collide
And I am falling at your feet
Stars shine so much brighter
You make me wanna sit right by
And watch the world falling at your feet

And if losing myself
Means becoming a part of you
Then I know I'm becoming
Something beautiful too
You make me wanna be a better man
And when you walk into the room
I feel the world dissolve
I fall at your feet
And watch the world spin around
And watch the
And feel 10 feet high
And make the colours seem bright
And my only desire
To sit right by and watch the world
Falling at your feet.
