

Dancing Industry

The So So Glos

Blown out the house, I'm breaking down these four walls have had me for too long I'll hit the highway now and I won't slow down till I'm a thousand miles from home I'm leaving everything I've ever known and I've never felt more fine if you're going to keep up you'll have to learn to dance and drive an ambulance at the same time cause that's the feeling you get from breaking ground floors and punching in ceilings this time I'm kicking down doors to open up yours and feel what I'm feeling Woe is me this ain't no party that I'm starting it's a dancing industry I used to be a pissed off criss cross I used to be a road into a wall, the more I grew, the less I knew the more it means nothing at all the Soundtrack's on the stereo, redefine the assembly line If your gonna keep up you'll have to learn to dance and drive an ambulance at the same time then you'll be down on all fours and breaking ground floors and smashing up ceilings and you'll be kicking in doors to open up yours and feel what I'm feeling woe is me this ain't a party that we're starting it's a dancing industry look at them shining bright people from all around let's build a new machine with moving parts of human beings people like you and me who sweat and breath and piss and bleed
