End the Answer

A Telemetry

bitter questions
replaying in my mind
all around me
shadows form to hide
hesitate to move
clock unwinds
to much to many
running out of line

better off
not to come to terms
better off
to leave and let the bridges burn

end the answer
quickly as you can
end the answer
you better state the plan
end the answer
effect defeats the cause
before the curtain draws

reliance a drug to find a peace of kind to late though
just hate arriving right on time defying emotion
settled deep inside
excavate to relate to the carnage of our pride

just to slip away
better off
to leave and let it all decay

end the answer
quickly as you can
end the answer

end the answer

to try to heed the warnings set before our eyes to see a future comes to pass there's a clench on denial a fever running wild
anxiety to happenstance cuts the answer clean

trusting the insolence reflecting in the attitude of deception
