Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Cassius Clay was hated
More than Sonny Liston
Some like K.K. Downing
More than Glenn Tipton
Some like Jim Nabors
Some Bobby Vinton
I like 'em allI put my feet up
On the coffee table
I stay up late watching cable
I like old movies with Clark Gable
Just like my dad doesJust like my dad did
When he was home
Staying up late,
Staying up alone
Just like my dad did
When he was thinking
Oh, how fast the years flyI know an old woman
Ran a donut shop
She worked late serving cops
Then one morning
Babe, her heart stopped
Place ain't the same no morePlace ain't the same no more
Not without my friend, Eleanor
Place ain't the same no more
Man, how things changeI buried my first victim
When I was nineteen
Went through her bedroom
And the pockets of her jeans
And found her letters
That said so many things
That really hurt me badI never breathed
Her name again

But I like to dream
About what could have been
I never heard her calls again
But I like to dream
