

Lying in the Grass

Animal Collective

All the pieces are where they ought to be
But it's clear that we don't look lightly
Take a place around the tabletop
Make a push to wake the moment up
Say, you want to say what's wrong
Any way to blow up the cover
There's a way thru bogs
As long as there's a light to discover it
Like a twisted stick, let's dig thru the sick and find a level space
Cinch to say
It's a gut that feels all things unknown
And a ring within the brain, you know
Not ashamed to say the instinct's there
But a virtue to deny the bait
Know the cost and move to cause an endeavour
Globbed onto something
In the lawn, there's room to improve
As there's a need to uncover it
As a joker sucks, let's sift thru the muck and lift this dingey veil
Same old tale
Get mixed in this crippling fixture, try and approach the hidden mixtures
Get mixed in this crippling fixture, try and approach the hidden nature
For a misplaced stash, let's search thru the trash and write this ignorant lurch
Wicked urge
Raise the gab above a whisper, speak to sound a spoiling blister
Raise the gab above a whisper, talk to cure a blistered picture
