Leech

No Warning

I will remain convicted
It's not up for discussion
We're not looking for another way
For you to latch on, you leech
For once in your life things are out of reachDo your words hold so much values
That you think your voice should be heard
By everyone?
There's a lot like youWhy should I forget all the times you fucked things up?
Don't try to prove yourself to me
That's not what I want to seeA try hard who thinks he has something to offer
I offer you this, the only thing that I can
The cold shoulder and the wave of my hand
That's right, I'm saying goodbyeDo your words hold so much value
That you think your voice should be heard
By everyone?Do your words hold so much value
That you think your voice should be heard
By everyone?
There's a lot like youNot looking for acceptance
I don't need your guidance
Burning bridges behind us
Turning on youNot looking for acceptance
I don't need your guidance
Burning bridges behind us
Turning on you
