All Babies

O'Connor SinÃ©ad

All babies are born saying God's name
Over and over, all born singing God's name
All babies are flown from the universe
From there they're lifted by the hands of angels
God gives them the stars to use as ladders
She hears their calls, she is mother and father
All babies are born out of great pain
Over and over, all born into great pain
All babies are crying
For no one remembers God's name
All babies are born saying God's name
Over and over, all born singing God's name
All babies are flown from the universe

From there they're lifted by the hands of angels
God gives them the stars to use as ladders
She hears their calls, she is mother and father
All babies are born out of great pain
Over and over, all born into great pain
All babies are crying
For no one remembers God's name
There's only love, there's only love
There's only love in this world
There's only love, there's only love
There's only love in this world
