On The Corner

John Patitucci

Somehow feel the border, tomorrow on the corner
Lick your lips, desire, the liar, the constant dividerAll rise with me, oh, take your place
Oh, rise with me, oh, take your placeSpread you legs and search your arrow-back
A handsome man you were, the situation turned
Who to say, let somebody in, bust them
Take your place, kiss your death dayAll ride with me, oh, take your place
I'll ride alone, I'll take your placeCome, taste the body, come on Come, waste the body, come onWe found a body turned on Blood ties the body to the sunAll rise with me, oh, take your place
All rise with me, I'll take your place
I'll take your placeScrew the self and answer my reward
Must not take your place, just your burning face
A waste, a waste, a waste
