Your Llorona

Concrete Blonde

Last night I saw her, your Llorona
Sitting alone at the back of the bar
Through the smoke and tequila
Tears and mascara
Hopeless and haunting the hotel CesarOh, your Llorona
Will remember forever corazon
Oh, your Llorona
Still waiting, still weeping, still aloneI didn't know what to tell her
Your Llorona
She was watching the boys
Come and go all nightShe was looking for you again
Your Llorona
The one in the corner
Dressed in whiteOh, your Llorona
Will remember forever corazon
Oh, your Llorona
Still waiting, still weeping, still aloneShe was asking about you again
Your Llorona
So what should I tell her
What should I say?She thinks you are coming back
Your Llorona
She swears you are coming back
To her some dayOh, your Llorona
Will remember forever corazon
Your Llorona
Still waiting, still weeping, still aloneOh, your Llorona
Will remember forever corazon
Your Llorona
Still waiting, still weeping, still aloneLlorona

Llorona
Waiting and weeping, still alone
Llorona
