The Tangled Road

Lyric by Kurt Elling Tonight / tonight the moon is clean

There's nothing in between / the light that throws a sheen

On everything we think we see / under the stars

And neon of the bars / convincing us we are in love But any moment now / a cloud or two will frown above us

For love is a fleeting thing / a lying and a cheating thing Most times it seems the road to love is a tangle

Always an angle keeps me from finding love / in a maze of covering

Love is just misleading me / a mistake / defeating me To me it feels like love is willful and confusing

Always abusing / lovers like me who keep the flame

Praying to meet another / who keeps the same

Holding a heart unclaimed / more than another game

Still I'll go on searching / weaving and lurching

Hoping one day / to see love clear
