

The Hardest Part (Jensen Sportag Remix)

Kisses

Even the best love leaves you open,
you're hollowing out a place to go

I'm taking you out across the city, you believe me, I ain't got nowhere, to go

Should I think about the future?

It follows me faster every day

And I got this new car for my new life and nightlife so don't push me out, today

I can't believe you had said it regret it,

I don't believe you'll forget it

I can't believe that she said a regret,
it's a heart to heart, it's a heart to heart

And falling in love is the hardest part it's the hardest part now

They buy you nice things and they say it stings don't you know what I'm talking about?

At the end of the day when you go away and you leave and softly say, that falling in love is the hardest part well, I'm not sure, I'm not sureAnd even the best love leaves you open,
you're hollowing out a place to go

Girl I'm taking you out across the city, you believe me, I ain't got nowhere, to go

Should I think about the future?

It follows me faster every day

And I got this new car for my new life and nightlife so don't push me out, today

I can't believe you had said it regret it,

I don't believe you'll forget it

I can't believe that she said a regret,
it's a heart to heart, it's a heart to heart

And falling in love is the hardest part it's the hardest part now

They buy you nice things and they say it stings don't you know what I'm talking about?

At the end of the day when you go away and you leave and softly say, that falling in love is the hardest part well, I'm not sure, I'm not sure Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlrics.com/>