Getting Over You

Jackie Lee

I bet you had a couple long nights sleeping alone
I bet even on a short drive if our song came on You'd pull over on the shoulder and cry, thinking 'bout how we used to be
Girl, I bet you had a hard time getting over meOoh, that might be true
But if you think getting over me was hard, try getting over you
I don't wanna make light of what you're going through
But if you think getting over me was hard, try getting over youBet you never taste my kiss in a rum and Coke
But you never spent all night at that old bar praying, waiting, hoping
That I might walk into your again like we never said goodbye
Make the cab take the long way by my place to see if someones parked outsideOoh, even if you do
But if you think getting over me was hard, try getting over you
I don't wanna make light of what you're going through
But if you think getting over me was hard, try getting over you
Yeah, try getting over youMoving on and I can barely move
Yeah, gotta face it baby, try getting over youOoh, my point of view
If you think getting over me was hard, try getting over you
I don't wanna make light of what you're going through
But if you think getting over me was hard, try getting over you, yeah
Oh, try getting over you, girl
