

For Your Eyes Only

Blondie

Don't look over my shoulder, I'm trying to read
Remember these intimate moments, don't forget my privacy
We both have our orders and a trick up the sleeve
There's no use pretending you're asleep The subject was roses, quine geology
Deliberate notice, you're taking of me
Caution and danger are not family
Don't try turning the tables on me Too long and too lonely
For your eyes only, secretly
Enjoy the paradox, you thinking I'm the fox
Can't ya see you personally? So many people know who you are
And they know you've been looking for your counterpart
We're chasing an echo in sonic 3-D
And if I laugh without joking, make believe
