

Girl of 1,000 Dreams

The Pains of Being Pure At Heart

Held my breath, thought of death and things I'd like to do 'til then See my friends, lose my head wake up with you in my bed When every feeling feels the same and every creeper knows your name he makes a pass on a passing train no shame I know everything is so-so I know you could just fly solo But come on, we are going to go go around the world, 'cuz you're the girl of 1,000 dreams Sadness hurts, but that's ok Get back up and cry again Fall asleep in outer space, but wake up at your parents' place So tell me how I'm supposed to live when every night you die for it So if you give, just say you won't give in
