

Three Cheers for the Nairmy

The Brothers-In-Law

Oh we used to have an army and we had an air force too
And we had a little navy somewhere on the ocean blue
But now there's something that I've just got to tell yer
We've been integrated by our Mr. Hellyer!

The traditions are all dead
Now there's just one force instead.

Now it's three cheers for the Nairmy
The Canadian defense force

We've fouled up all the officers, they've baggered up the ranks
They have brigadiers in battleships and admirals in tanks
They got tunics made of khaki, and pants are navy blue

So if you don't know what to be, on land or air or on the sea
The Nairmy is the place for you.
