Hang On

Seether

Oh, now I found myself, wish I was someone else
My hands are stained with love, wish I could take it away
I hid behind the shell, in time the pain will melt
My heart is stained with love, wish I could fake itI gave my life away, theres nothing left to say
I gave my life away, you take it in your way
You take it in your wayMy selfish enemy still has the best of me
Empty and feeling numb, wish I could take it away
I cant control the need too weak to not concede
Wish I was deaf and dumb, wish I could fake itI gave my life away, theres nothing left to say
I gave my life away, you take it in your way
You take it in your wayI gave my life away, theres nothing left to say
I gave my life away, you take it in your way
You take it in your wayI cant pretend were the same
I cant pretend were the same
I cant pretend were the sameOh, now I found myself
Wish I was someone else
My hands are stained with love
Wish I could fakeI gave my life away, theres nothing left to say
I gave my life away, you take it in your way
You take it in your wayI gave my life away, theres nothing left to say
I gave my life away, you take it in your way
You take it in your wayYou take it in your way
You take it in your way
You take it in your way
You take it in your way
