Falling

Missy Higgins

Dont say what youre about to say
Believe me, you are my fate
And I believe youll find a way
Or will you keep on falling
Until you reach the ground?Of your lonely mind will you
Ever find yourself again?
And will you keep on dying
Until youve finally found, a better place
Where you find you
Will not wake up again?'Cause what you see is crystal wall
What you breath is silver air
But weigh this moment with a future
Of your dreams, no longer thereWhat you see is burning black
What you breathe is empty air
So weigh this moment with a future
Of your dreams, no longer thereYoure falling, yeah
Youre falling, yeah
So take my hand
And come on lets flyTheres always someone laughing
From the corner of their cage
But to fly amongst the mountains
You must dance within the wavesWill you keep on falling
Until you reach the ground?
Of your lonely mind will you
Ever find yourself again?And will you keep on dying
Until youve finally found, a better place
Where you find you
Will not wake up again?'Cause what you see is crystal wall
What you breath is silver air
But weigh this moment with a future
Of your dreams, no longer thereAnd what you see is burning black
And what you breathe is empty air
So weigh this moment with a future
Of your dreams, no longer thereYoure falling, yeah
Youre falling, yeah
So take my hand
Come on, lets fly
