Pilot Light (Extended Version)

Dave Derby

Dave Derby - Pilot Light - Lyrics

It might take all the strength all I got to get to where I want
But I know somehow Iâ€™m gonna get there
I wasnâ€™t looking when I just got caught between the truth and the lie I bought
Finding out wonâ€™t make me feel any better
Yeah I know the clock is ticking but the meds are gonna kick in
And my pilot lightâ€™s shining bright

I guess somewhere the choice was made for the option where you donâ€™t get paid
For the road that bends before it finally breaks you
I guess somehow I lost my drive between the 101 and the 5
Do you know how far the detour takes you?
Yeah I know the clock is ticking but the meds are gonna kick in
And my pilot light's shining bright

The months drifted into years while I shifted in and out of gears
Waiting for my moment to happen
I donâ€™t know how much longer I can stay in
Or how much more I've got pay to play in
I know somehow the lines got grayed in Somewhere before the credits fade in

But my pilot lights shining
Pilot lights shining
Pilot lights shining bright
