Believe

Stellar Road

waste the hours and spend my days everyone is cold everything is gray holds truth close to my heart but inside my head we all fall apart i donâ€™t why itâ€™s still raining i see the world has stopped to turn all i know is that my heart is racing, yeah itâ€™s like my mind is a room with no doors i canâ€™t see out and no one knows except you and what youâ€™ve already thrown away girl you knew what you had in me i donâ€™t know why itâ€™s still raining i was sitting at the top of the world now i know that my heart is racing, yeah *at night staring at the midnight blue, god i could have gave the world to you so hard to rest my head, but the feeling isnâ€™t better off dead dissolve these signs in the back of my mind that keep coming through like weâ€™re ready to fight donâ€™t know but my heart is racing, yeah up and see stars i put shapes into words i spell out life like youâ€™ve never heard of stepping out into a crowded street i hide life underneath a wilted peachtree dissolve these signs in the back of my mind

i still believe in you
