

Lose It All

Pillar

Can you tell me why we all run from the hurt inside?
There's no need to cry, dry your eyes and take a breath
It's life or death, can you tell me what you're waiting for? If you lose it all and it just won't feel the same
In the fight to carry on, stand and face the rain
And as you watch it fall, you learn to live again
It isn't all that bad when you're still standing in the end Give this one more try, take my hand, let your heart decide
And hold your head up high, close your eyes and take a breath
It's life or death, can you tell me what you're waiting for? If you lose it all and it just won't feel the same
In the fight to carry on, stand and face the rain
And as you watch it fall, you learn to live again
It isn't all that bad when you're still standing in the end And all the voices cry out
They pull you up, tear you down
And in that one voice
Whispers of that leave again If you lose it all and it just won't feel the same
In the fight to carry on, stand and face the rain
And as you watch it fall, you learn to live again
It isn't all that bad when you're still standing in the end

Songwriters

BECKLEY, ROB / HENSON, NOAH / GRAVES, ROBERT DOUGLAS / WALLEN, KEITH Published by Lyrics © Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>