

So Beautiful

The Dunwells

Sometimes, all that's left to fight for is the one thing that you wanted
And sometimes, you feel closer to the moments that you've always really wanted And i don't have the words to say In my mind, it's clear i've found a home that I finally call my own
But this time I'm going to hold onto these moments with the grace that they've been given But i don't have the words to say
The only words i have today Oh, look at you now, look at you now
So beautiful, oh so beautiful
Now, look at you now, look at you now
So beautiful, oh so beautiful Sometimes, my eyes aren't even open, live life with pure emotion
But this time, my eyes are truly open, can't believe it's you i'm holding And i don't have the words to say
The only words i have today Oh, look at you now, look at you now
So beautiful, oh so beautiful
Now, look at you now, look at you now
So beautiful, oh so beautiful When you're lost in a moment, (And I don't have the words)
I know that we both feel the same
Let's hold each other closer (The only words I have)
When the lights go out, do you feel the words that I say? Oh, look at you now, look at you now
So beautiful, oh so beautiful
Now, look at you now, look at you now
So beautiful, oh so beautiful
Now, look at you now, look at you now
So beautiful, oh so beautiful
Now, look at you now, look at you now
So beautiful, oh so beautiful
So beautiful, oh so beautiful So beautiful now
