

The Right Type

Chromeo

The sun's begin now to blind
It's the beginning of another day
You are so one of a kind
But he disappeared in disarray You take a look at the time
And see how much longer you can wait
And you finally step outside
But everything is so blue and gray It sucks when it bombs
On your way, just might be time to move on
When he's gone, believe me he's gone
But it won't last forever
Somebody will promise to be The right type
A knight in shining armor
Be the right type
The right type
A knight in shining armor
Be the right type The right type
A knight in shining armor
Be the right type
Comes along more delight
And he's exactly what he promised to be You can't believe it
He told you he was unlike the other guys
But little by little, he changed
And he proved to be otherwise Leave alone, it's alright, girl
You always over-analyze
You're just going through a phase
It takes a moment to recognize It sucks when it bombs
On your way, just might be time to move on
When he's gone, believe me he's gone
But it won't last forever
Somebody will promise to be The right type
A knight in shining armor
Be the right type
The right type
A knight in shining armor
Be the right type The right type
A knight in shining armor
Be the right type
Comes along more delight
And he's exactly what he promised to be The sun's begin now to blind

It's the beginning of another day

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>