Big Man

Tony Banks

The hot seat's vacant 'cos he gave up the reins
He's kissed his title goodbye run far away
He's gone to ground in some hole, I don't know where
All I know is somehow that I'm big man up hereI don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every wayI just don't know what all these levers are for
Well, I don't know it but I'm reasonably sure
I've got a red light warning, I don't know why
Maybe it will go away if I close my eyesI don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way
Help every day in every wayI don't know what's come over me
I'm really feeling rather strangeI got no time for wisdom 'cos I'm the fool
I got no time for those who won't obey my rules
Some day I won't be teacher, I don't know when Ha but I'm gonna please myself until thenI don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way
Help every day in every wayDon't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way
Help every day in every way
