

Big Man

Tony Banks

The hot seat's vacant 'cos he gave up the reins
He's kissed his title goodbye run far away
He's gone to ground in some hole, I don't know where
All I know is somehow that I'm big man up here I don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way I just don't know what all these levers are for
Well, I don't know it but I'm reasonably sure
I've got a red light warning, I don't know why
Maybe it will go away if I close my eyes I don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way
Help every day in every way I don't know what's come over me
I'm really feeling rather strange I got no time for wisdom 'cos I'm the fool
I got no time for those who won't obey my rules
Some day I won't be teacher, I don't know when Ha but I'm gonna please myself until then I don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way
Help every day in every way Don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way
Help every day in every way
