

Pretty Little Girl

All

She's a pretty little girl
You see her pretty walking by
So she's never alone
And want her for your own
Every eye's on her
In every room she's in Every move and every curve
Memorizing every line
Of all the pretty little girls
You know she is the queen
From all the pretty little pictures
You tell her that you love her
In the pretty magazines
She's as pretty as a picture
But she won't know how you feel
But only half as real You gave so much
It took so little
You had to know
To hurt you so She's learned that a pretty girl
Can smile and get her way
It so happens that it's certain
That it happens everyday
Anything she wants she can get so easily
And a pretty little girl is all she ever has to be
You gave so much You had to know
It took so little
You hurt you so
But you can bet
That she shed some tears for you But I bet you that they were
A pretty little precious few
Can't you see just what she's done?
Now your eyes are open
And you're just another one
She's made of fool of many others
From her pretty little head
Pretty little on her mind
To her pretty little toes
Precious little in her soul
