A New World

Joseph Bishara

Old world has left in starvation and disease fourteen ninety-two bring a new change to see Across the ocean they would sail (following out the dark blaze) They keep the route with an endless faith[bridge:] far beyond the earth's edge they will reach their dreams as a privilege sun still spreads out its beams[Chorus:] With the winds of the sea always blowing from the east three boats dare to face sailing through inferno's gate just a will, a belief which could cross the deep abyss to discover a new world saving humanitysuddenly a joyful cry was heard in the advanced night the long awaited sight was seen below the skynew treasures shine before my eyes (they're bright like a burning fire) i will enjoy the eternal sea of life[Bridge][Chorus]aventus nautarum in novan terram argentum aurumque Americabut they didn't know that this virgin ground was an unknown land that's overgrown new Eden's found the lost paradise
Mankind's dawn is beginning to risethis land is wild Our boots were defiled Our dreams will be reality the native's pain always in vain our glory was their agonyBut when Columbus told the queen all the thing he'd seen he had to submit and be agreed With kingdom's greed [Chorus]
