Halfway Town

Triggerfinger

Take the car, drive it to the outskirts
But not too far, get lost in the dark
Park under the trees, dim the lights
And wait there for meTrouble bound, we can only see each other
In this halfway town, there's no escape in faith
And the glimpse of paradise
Blowin' in your eyesAnd it seems so wrong
Yeah, it feels so good
The need is so strong
And it seems so wrongSeems I'm losing my senses
It's raving mad
But if it can make me feel better
It can't be badI can draw the line
In this fragile combination of redemption and crime
We've long passed the station
And common sense, it's too intenseAnd it seems so wrong
Yeah, it feels so good
The need is so strong
And it feels so wrongSeems I'm losing my senses
It's raving mad
But if it can make me feel better
It can't be bad
If it can make me feel better
It can't be badAaa, hii, hoo, hoo
Ooh, ooh, hoo, hoo
Ahh, haa, ah, hah
Ahh, haa, ah, hah
