

Capo 1

STAMPEAD

as I sit and I stare into the eyes of my dream my feet sink in this saltwater stream I hear the sounds of the waves and the songs of the wind Iâ€™m finally alone safe and unseen

I pray for the day
when the sea will swallow my soul surrounding me with water and nowhere to fall

I sing my song for the seagulls and the bloodshot sunset smoke a cigarette while my feet get wet

I pray for the day
surrounding me with water
and nowhere to fall

but itâ€™s just a dream an illusion in my mind I know Iâ€™ll never be able to leave you all behind

I pray for the day
surrounding me with water
and nowhere to fall
