Old to Begin

Pavement

Embrace the senile genius
Watch him reinvent the wheel
I don't need your summary acts, summary acts
To give into the narrative ageOld to begin
I will set you back, set you back, set you
Old to begin
I will set you back, set you back, set youYou get to feelin' like a fixture
Set in nineteen sixty six
Time came that we drifted apart, drifted apart
Find an unidentical twinOld to begin
I will set you back, set you back, set you
Old to begin
I will set you back, set you back fromSearch for a blatant cause
Blame it on menopause
Or perhaps stress and strain
Credit cards, lumbar pain
But I've seen you double dares
Everything extraordinaire
I know the things you do call to come backLa la la la la
La la la la la

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/