Secret

54-40

So you ask yourself if you had a dream would you share it
See I wanna take you there and we'll make it real
No matter what you reach yourself, fear is going to teach you to run away
But see yourself in my eyes there is no monster on your tailI will tell no one, I will carry on
You gotta dish off all the pain
Go into the river that will hurry you
Away around the worldSo you ask yourself all about the secret that you're holding inside
See I wanna help you get it out and let it fly highI will tell no one, I will carry on
'Cause you are my chosen dream
Your breath is all the rhythm that it takes
To carry me above the worldI'm walking 'round someone gotta hold on me
I'm walking 'round, gotta tend to the key
I can barely be here when she walks through the door
I can barely be here when she wants me for more'Cause you are my chosen dream
Your breath is all the rhythm that it takes to carry me
I will tell no one, I will carry on
I will tell no one, I will carry on, carry on
