

You Can't Help Me Now

The Both

Any time you establish a world of your own, you get thrown Try and answer a bomb with a calm undertone, alone
I wanted you to know that I put up a fight But everything goes missing when they dim the light
The catastrophic sinking of the windless kite
And even you can't help me now
You can't help
You can't help me now
You can't help
Any time you establish a need to atone, you're prone Down the tracks you can map on the seams of your own broken bones
I wanted you to know
I'm not here to indict
And everything you've seen is like a second sight We're inheriting the balance of a poor birthright
And even you can't help me now
You can't help
You can't help me now
You can't help
You want to say that you were waiting for this but you weren't ready yet And those "If only's" only clothe the good in front of you with regret I wanted you to know that it was understood
I know if you could come around again you would But baby, I can't see you in this neighborhood
You can't help
You can't help me now
You can't help
