Say I Believe In It (Boondocks Ver, Web Only)

Isabelle Antena

Whenever it's...a rainy day...when your eyes get wet, and it looks like the travel is here to stay...boy you would like to runaway.
You try to be kind of optimistic, but your heart gets cold, you can take your thoughts away from the one you miss...you shouldn't let yourself sink deeper in this trance.
Boy don't cry over happiness, if you're crying too much, your gonna lose that final touch oh, boy don't cry over happiness, say I believe in it...
Boy don't cry over happiness, if you're crying too much, your gonna lose that final touch oh, boy don't cry over happiness, say I believe in it...Whenever you are down just say i believe in it...
You packed your things on the road again...it's the same old song and it drives you back to where it begins...oh boy you're on the road again.
Just try to be...realistic, what's the need to be down and out, if it's going to make you sick...you shouldn't let yourself go deeper in distress...
And Boy don't cry over happiness, if you're crying too much, your gonna lose the final touch oh, boy don't cry over happiness, say I believe in it...I believe in it...
Oh, Boy don't cry over happiness, if you're crying too much, your gonna lose the final touch oh, boy don't cry over happiness, say I believe in it...Whenever you are down just say I believe in it!
Just let the world go round...and round...and round...
Just let the world go round...and round...and round...
Just let the world go round...and round...and round...
Just let the world...
