

To Meet You

Teitur

Its 5 miles 'til I see my lover
I guess you could say
That shes more than thatIve been sat in this seat now for hours
Reading my book like a map
Yeah, these windows are crying
And this train is dying to meet youAnd this train is filled with emotions
That all make me think about you
When we pass these old desert stations
I wanna go there with youYeah, Its 4 miles and counting
And my hands are shouting to meet you
To meet you is fine, for I know youre all mine
Waiting is nice, I can think of her eyesThese tracks can lead
Just to one place
And your face that Ill kiss
And embrace when I meet youIm wondering if youll ever come with me
We could play husband and wife
We could waltz around this globe and its mysteries
And then rest 'til the end of our livesYeah, its 2 miles and closing
And Im overdosing in you
To meet you, to meet you
Yeah, these windows are crying
And this train is dying to meet you
