

Arms Open Wide (Compilation Version)

David Phelps

From another world
Out of the heavens, into the earth
Came another love, a love that we've never seen or heard
 You came and displayed Your love
By giving You all for us You are the High and Holy One
 You left the glory of Your throne
 And You gave Your life away
You are the Lord of everything The reason for the song I sing
 You're worthy to be praised
 You lived and died with arms open wide
 With arms open wide From another time
 Your will unfolded, just like You planned
 Your spirit is alive and living in the hearts of man
 How deep Your unfailing love
That You would remain with us You are the High and Holy One
 You left the glory of Your throne
 And You gave Your life away
You are the Lord of everything The reason for the song I sing
 You're worthy to be praised
 You lived and died with arms open wide
 With arms open wide You are the High and Holy One
 You left the glory of Your throne
 And You gave Your life away
You are the Lord of everything The reason for the song I sing
 You're worthy to be praised
 You lived and died with arms open wide
 With arms open wide
