

What Will Your Anthem Be

Bleach

When the glitter fades, it fades so fast
What really lasts, what will the anthem be?
Did we sing of rock 'n' roll?
Did we sing of sacred souls?
Has the heart and the harmony met pleasingly? When the flicker fades, it fades so fast
Nothing is left, what will be legacies?
'Cause guitars will burn you see
Recollect no memory of the lights
And the cheers and the human vanity Should I give?
Should I sing some rust?
Pity me for my golden lust
This one's for the lily
And this one is for the rose Here it is, let the truth be told
Here it is, we would like to know
Here it is, what will the anthem be
What will your anthem be?
What will our anthem be?
What will the anthem be?
And what will the anthem be?
