

Kiss the Breeze

Sticky Fingers

I hit the pavement, runnin a muck and I don't stop
I've been living the same day for the past 6 months
In a daze, because I'm doing what I love
And I won't leave the stage until you motherfuckers jump I leave my pride inside oblivion, don't take yourself
so serious
Life is just a game so you can share all your fears without this theres peace within this harmony that flows within the core of me Grows up in my mind, apples out of another's apple tree So have a laugh, or get blasted out to space I kiss the breeze and let your rhythm flow out
I kiss the breeze and let your rhythm flow out
I kiss the breeze and let your rhythm flow out
I kiss the breeze and let your rhythm flow out Mind-altering you stare we're in the clear Activate yourself, the sounds slip through your fingers
Where it lingers up above the clouds in a maze You lose control, relaxation, our rotation spinning up round your brain We're all the same on the level round the way
Within it's carve, within it's quake, within the breeze lies your fate
So share a glass and get plastered off your face I kiss the breeze and let your rhythm flow out
I kiss the breeze and let your rhythm flow out
I kiss the breeze and let your rhythm flow out
I kiss the breeze and let your rhythm flow out Grinded by the sun yeah he burns me to the floor
I'm burning cold and getting old, I've seen this place before
And still when your return to face the burden, breaking laws and turning faces, chasing dreams our shadow's races. The world is in your hands and I cheers to your success Follow salute, get in the back we're off to heaven's gates
I put you on the door so don't worry about your fate We'll trek around time and space, we'll drink champagne to celebrate The world is in your hands and I cheers to your success
Follow salute, get in the back we're off to heaven's gates
I leave you wanting more and I'm sorry if we're late Forget yourself, unwind your state, cause there's plenty little life to waste Just kiss the breeze and let your rhythm flow out
Just kiss the breeze and let your rhythm flow out
