

One Step Closer

Bslick

I'm just a cop looking for a kid I get attacked by an infected and I go to the station to make a report and everyone there has been infected then I leave with a lone survivor we escape into the woods then they turned like everyone else there's not that much I can endure it seems like everybody's gone infected right down to the bone this journey into the unknown we thought we tracked down the responsible we've become unstoppable this is something we must do all alone. Yeah we're gonna chase down Mr P one step closer to your misery one step further from your piggy army yeah we're gonna knock down every door we won't infect them any more their death will be an unsolved mystery
