

Painting On Sad Eyes

Mimes On Rollercoasters

Hey, I got something to say. I donâ€™t understand why youâ€™re acting this way.
Where, where is your lust for life? Somethingâ€™s wrong, there can be no disguise.

Youâ€™re painting on sad eyes, black and white fade to gray.
Been wearing a long face, what else do I have to say?

You canâ€™t explain your emotions, so lonely
Your private fears locked away deep in your inner self.
Who is this stranger invading your kingdom?
Who is this stranger here, tugging at your heart strings?

Hey, girl canâ€™t you see, what itâ€™s doing to you, itâ€™s doing to me?
Iâ€™m caught up here in a danger zone, clinging to you, but feeling alone.

Youâ€™re painting on sad eyes, black and white fade to gray.
Been wearing a long face, what else do I have to say?

You canâ€™t explain your emotions, so lonely.
Your private fears locked away deep your inner self.
Who is this stranger invading your kingdom?
Who is this stranger here, tugging on your heart strings?

Blue, itâ€™s all over you? I donâ€™t understand those things that you do.
Babe, are you telling me, somebody new is taking my place?

Youâ€™re painting on sad eyes, black and white fade to gray.
Been wearing a long face, what else do I have to say?

Who is this stranger invading your kingdom?
Who is this stranger here, tugging at your heart strings?

Who is this stranger invading your kingdom?
Who is this stranger here, tugging at your heart strings?
