Boys and Girls

Bryan Ferry

I'm a stranger in your town
That's the place I belong
Laid behind the frame
And the curtain's torn againA wailing saxophone
And you know it's all in my song
All the sin that I can take
But you don't even know my nameYou've got so sense of fun
But you know I've one
All the good has turned to bad
All you know what I think of thatNo time to dream
No time to sigh
No time to kill
When love walks by
